Income Tax Cut Of 10 Percent Seems Certain

Confusion Over Control of Atom Secrets Marks Day in Congress As Speech by Adm. Nimitz Awaited - - But There Is No Side-tracking Tax Bill Which Has Committee Approval

By MAX HALL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(P)—Congress today was in a state of: 1. Confusion over controlling atomic energy. 2. Harmony over cutting taxes. 3. Admiration for Admiral Nimitz.

Senators clattered down the long capitol corridor to the House chamber for a joint session to hear a speech by the famous admiral.

Meandering Along the Main Stem

By WASH FAYETTE

Heard on the street: "Where's the boy?"

And the answer: "In a southern camp. He's anxious to get home, but curiously enough the kid is processing the discharge of other kids."

It was only a few short weeks back that tycoons depended upon these "kids" for the safety of democracy, their business houses and their very lives. They were part of what they themselves called "this man's army." What's more, they were engaged in brutal work that could not be entrusted to men twice their age. These "kids" gave their all, many their lives. Many whose ages ranged from 18 to 22 matured over night, lost weight and their hair turned gray.

It's not a good idea to let anyone overhear you refer to the men of our army and navy as "kids." That's not the way they are referred to as patients in our hospitals where the fight continues for their lives.

These youngsters have done a man's work in a man's sized job, and we have every right to be proud of their extraordinary achievements along with men of more mature age.

The other day a young air force major, his wife, and their handsome young son who couldn't have been over three years old stopped in at Maddux's Restaurant for lunch.

They sat down at one of the tables and, when the waitress came to take their order, they asked for a high chair for the child. He didn't approve—I could see that from where I was sitting—but he didn't put up a fuss either.

When the high chair came, the father lifted the boy into the chair and began to put the tray attachment down over his son's head. It wouldn't go.

A little embarrassed as it was, the major's face really got red when the boy shouted triumphantly "You see! I AM too big!"

5 BOYS ASK HOMES OF GOVERNOR TODAY

COLUMBUS, Oct. 5.—(P)—Five youthful inmates of the Lancaster Boys Industrial School who have completed their sentences asked Gov. Frank J. Lausche to find homes for them so they could be released.

The quintet, accompanied by Supt. Ralph W. Alvis of the school, represented a score of boys at the institution who are eligible for release, except they lack homes to receive them.

The governor promised to try to find homes for the boys but observed "I don't know of anything I can do right now."

Most of the boys, somewhat nervous and untalkative but earnest in their cause, have one or both parents living but Alvis said their homes were such that they could not be returned to them.

MORNING RAIN FAILS TO BALK WORLD SERIES

Nearly 450 Fans Give Seats To Wounded Veterans For Third Game

By SID FEDER

BRIGGS STADIUM, Detroit, Oct. 5.—(P)—A pale, weak sun broke through the rain clouds just before noon today to end a two-hour drizzle that threatened the third game of the 1945 World Series.

The infield had remained covered throughout the morning hours and there had been no signs of life on the entire field, but the Tigers finally began drifting out of their dugout exactly at 12 o'clock and it appeared certain the game would get under way on schedule at 1:30 P. M. EST.

The Cubs, too, showed up in their dugout to look over the situation, and the approximately 9,000 fans on hand by this time sent up a loud roar.

The two teams went into this third game tied at one win each, with Southpaw Stubby Overmire pitching for the Tigers and Fidgety Claude Pasreau serving for the National Leaguers.

The upper and lower tiers of the bleachers appeared just about full, and the chances were for a third straight turnout within shouting distance of the 55,000 mark.

Nearly 450 Detroiters gave up their seats for the third World Series game today to make room for wounded veterans.

Offers of tickets and cash donations poured in by the thousands after the plight of the overlooked veterans was publicized.

Within the infield still wearing its tarpaulin overcoat, the Tigers went back into their dressing room at 12:15. The Cubs, however, spread out along the right-field line and began loosening up with half a dozen games of catch.

The band, which had been playing weather music in one of the runways under the stands, came out with the sun, took its accustomed spot on the centerfield grass, and went to work.

Apparently it had been decided to forego batting practice for the third game, for at 12:20, the hitting cage was folded up and wheeled off to its resting place under the stands.

The Tigers remained 5 to 6 favorites with the bettors among the early arrivals to win this one behind their erratic southpaw, Stubby Overmire, and take a two to one lead in games in the series.

The Cubs remained firm in their pitching choice for this third tilt—the slow-working righthander, Claude Pasreau.

Russia Blamed for Complete Failure of Allied Confab; Deadlock Deliberate

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—(P)—A glib interpretation of the London conference is in current circulation which holds the matter is probably all just the usual dickering of statesmen, jockeying for position.

The full failure to agree on anything of consequence, even including the minutes of the conference itself, has been described as just another "diplomatic crisis," which will soon be over.

This is wholly unjustified according to my information. A detailed study of the disagreement will suggest its deeper nature.

The statement of State Secretary Byrnes at the breakup expressed expectations as hopeful as a doubtful man could stretch his pen to write for the usual diplomatic purposes. Authorities interested in going further and more frankly into an understanding of the

Cripple Says Her Cure Caused By Vision Of God

UPPER SANDUSKY, Oct. 5.—(P)—Miss Ninabelle Cross, crippled and confined to bed since 1929 by a long series of illnesses, today was walking, cured, she declares, by a vision of "God in a beautiful white robe."

The 38-year-old woman, a former school teacher, who claims the vision made her "completely well," said she has suffered from paralysis, periodic comas, partial blindness and deafness, and a fractured neck vertebra. She wore a brace because of a back injury until a week ago.

Her mother, Mrs. Andrew Cross, said her daughter's recovery occurred during the night of Sept. 27 when "Ninabelle couldn't even move herself."

"It was about 4 A. M.," Miss Cross explained, "I had my third vision of the image of God... and it was very plain. The first two had not been distinct. He was dressed in a beautiful white robe. He said, 'You have had faith and will be cured.'

Then, she continued, she got up and awakened her mother.

Ed Schorr Resigns As Ohio GOP Boss

Party Storm Center and Chairman for 15 Years To Continue On Committee and Maintain Law Offices -- Successor Not Named

COLUMBUS, Oct. 5.—(P)—Ed D. Schorr resigned today as Republican state chairman after 15 years in office.

Schorr's announcement was contained in a prepared statement which he handed newsmen just before the Republican State Central and Executive Committee met here.

"I am today resigning as chairman of the Republican State Central and Executive Committee of Ohio," the statement said.

"I shall continue to serve as a member of the committee and to work for the Republican party and the cause of good government to the utmost of my ability, but personal affairs will require that I devote myself more fully to the practice of law than I am able to do while serving as chairman.

"I shall continue to maintain law offices in Columbus and Cincinnati."

Schorr's home is in Cincinnati. He took over the duties as chairman in 1930 while serving as Director of Commerce under former Gov. Myers Y. Cooper.

At that time the party faced a debt of about $70,000, which was liquidated years ago.

Frequently criticized as chairman, Schorr through the years weathered the storms and remained in office.

First Major Task Ahead of Successor Is To Provide Food for People

TOKYO, Oct. 5.—(P)—Japan's cabinet, unable to hew to General MacArthur's decrees for a new birth of freedom in the fallen empire, quit today and aides of former foreign minister Shigeru Yoshida said an announcement on a new cabinet would be made tomorrow.

The day ended without official indication a new premier had been named, and reports persisted the moderate Yoshida himself would take the helm of government despite his own denials.

Emperor Hirohito accepted the resignations of Prince Higashikuni and his entire cabinet with the comment, "That is good," and made it clear that he would ask MacArthur's prior approval of the next premier.

The day ended without official indication a new premier had been named, and reports persisted the moderate Yoshida himself would take the helm of government despite his own denials.

Emperor Hirohito accepted the resignations of Prince Higashikuni and his entire cabinet with the comment, "That is good," and made it clear that he would ask MacArthur's prior approval of the next premier.

Yoshida, a career diplomat, told Japanese interviewers that "it is not I," but they pointed out that he "is always foxy and wouldn't admit it beforehand anyway."

They added that two visits they said he made to the imperial palace today—and two calls at MacArthur's headquarters—indicated his selection and approval.

Prince Fumimaro Konoye, reportedly also a possible choice as new premier, visited Yoshida at 7:30 P. M.

Imperial household sources earlier had reported that Hirohito was dispensing with the traditional advice of Japan's elder statesmen in making his new choice of a premier acceptable to the Allies.

The cabinet to be named by the incoming premier may not have army and navy ministers. Japanese government authorities said these posts have been retained up to the present to carry out demobilization of Japan's armed forces, now expected to be completed by October 15.

The Japanese ministry of education today abolished bayonet drills, target practice, ground battle technique and military ski training in all Japanese schools.

The new premier's first job will be to take steps toward alleviating a critical food, fuel and housing shortage throughout Japan. He also may be called on to cope with political agitation stemming from American release of Japanese political prisoners and elimination of feudalistic thought control and other repressive measures.

Well informed Japanese sources said a demand for abolition of the emperor's current advisers was spreading among the people who were "in no mood to accept their continued control over the government."

MacArthur had insisted on the immediate removal of Home Minister Iwao Yamazaki, whose latest act was the confiscation of Japanese newspapers showing pictures of Hirohito calling on MacArthur.

PLANT PUMPING NORMAL INTAKE SINCE REPAIRS

Leak Apparently Repaired
And Excessive Cost of Plant Cut

City Manager W. L. Stambaugh and operator of the sewage disposal plant James Finney are still much elated over the fact that the big intake of water into the interceptor sewer, which has more than doubled pumpage costs and resulted in dilution of the sludge until it could not be handled properly at the plant, appears permanently repaired.

Recently when repairs were being made on the interceptor sewer at a point where it passes under the B. and O. bridge west of the B. and O. station, where the sewer had been crushed by a recent wreck, other damage to the sewer was repaired, and apparently this halted the heavy intake of water.

Finney said Friday that pumping continued normal, and that the recent floodwaters caused by the heavy rains was handled within a short time, after which the flow dropped back to normal.

At the present time, he said, pumping is the lowest it has been in three years.

It is also easier to process the sewage since the Ladoga Canning Plant ceased packing corn, as the waste required considerable effort to handle.

This was done in the House. But when it was proposed in the Senate, there was such an outcry that the decision was postponed. Many senators feel that peacetime development of atomic energy is not primarily a military matter.

Tax Bill Pressed
But there is no sidetracking of the tax bill. The House ways and means committee has approved the cutting of $5,300,000,000 from the $32,500,000,000 that would be collected from taxpayers in 1946 under present laws.

Under the bill as it now stands, every individual who pays income taxes (there are nearly 50,000,000 now) would get at least a 10 percent reduction starting January 1. About 12,000,000 of them would stop paying income taxes altogether.

Taxes on jewelry, whisky, beer, luggage, furs, phone calls, and theater tickets would drop next July 1. Business taxes also would be reduced. And you wouldn't have to buy a windshield tax stamp for your auto next summer. It also would "freeze" the Social Security tax for 1946, meaning employers and employees will continue to pay one percent.

More action in Congress:
Reorganization—Last night the House passed a bill to give President Truman the power to transfer, merge, or lop off almost any government agency. Congress would keep the right to "veto" any such action it didn't like. The bill now goes to the Senate.

and the negotiations collapsed. Hensel said the navy intends to protest against a National Labor Relations board trial examiner's recommendation to dissolve one of the federation's affiliated unions.

Navy Controls Oil

Vice Admiral Ben Moreell, chief of the navy's bureau of yards and docks, drew the assignment of running the seized oil facilities.

It appeared for the present at least there would be no increase in oil workers' wages.

• Acting Secretary of the Navy H. Struve Hensel told a news conference the navy would not try to deal with the union demand for a 30 percent increase without an order from the War Labor Board.

Chairman George W. Taylor said WLW had not been asked to weigh the wage question.

The strike grew out of the union's pay demand and the companies' refusal to go beyond a 15 percent wage increase. Schwelbach proposed the strike end with the 15 percent hike placed into effect temporarily with an arbitrator to settle the difference between that and the 30 percent the union wanted. However, all but one of the companies wanted the arbitration to start from scratch at the present wage rates.

Ray Bliss of Akron, a member of the central and executive committee, was touted as having the inside track to succeed Schorr.

The committee meeting was called to receive a digest by a fact-finding group seeking cause for Republican reverses in the 1944 general election. The Democrats won the governorship and two other state offices that year.

WORLD TODAY

By DeWITT MacKENZIE

It really looks as though we are getting ahead with the colossal task of eliminating despotism, militarism, barbarism and otherisms of evil from Japan and Germany.

Both MacArthur and Eisenhower have made further sensational moves in the reformation of these criminal nations. The two generals, having beaten their swords into plowshares, are digging deep and ripping up the poisonous roots.

Indeed, in the case of medieval Japan, the sudden removal of governmental repression of thought and action from the public has created a situation that may result in rebellion to do away completely with Nippon's ancient autocratic rule. However, MacArthur is only carrying out the Potsdam proclamation of the Big Four on July 26, calling on Japan to surrender.

"The Japanese government," said this statement, "shall remove all obstacles to the revival and strengthening of the Japanese people. Freedom of speech and religion and of thought, as well as respect for the fundamental human rights, shall be established."

This recently was emphasized in a directive from Washington, and MacArthur was told that if the people restored to the use of force in seeking political reform, he wasn't to interfere any more than necessary to protect United Nations interests. So when the Jap government still clung to repressive measures, the general struck.

The supreme commander yesterday decreed a Magna Carta for Japan. He ordered the government to remove all bars to freedom of speech, religion and assemblies. He further decreed the disbandment of the "thought police," which were the equivalent of Germany's gestapo, and ordered the release of their 3,000 political prisoners who had been locked up—some for many years—for expressing ideas displeasing to the pre-surrender government.

Today the Japanese cabinet resigned rather than obey MacArthur's order. The Mikado is said to have remarked, upon receiving the resignations, "that is good and I accept." The retiring premier, Higashi-Kuni interpreted this as meaning that a stronger ministry and one more acceptable to the Americans could be formed.

As the result of this explosion, neutral observers believe that rebellion against the imperial regime is a strong possibility. I don't think we should jump to conclusions at this juncture, but simply recognize that the potentialities of a popular upheaval are there.

Over in Germany Eisenhower is tearing fiercely at the roots of Nazism. He now is rushing the drafting of a law which will supplement drastically his recent decree which forbade employment of Nazis in business except as "labor" in the U. S. occupation zone. That law is aimed at wiping out the Nazi managerial class.

The new decree deals with the Hitlerite magnates. In effect it will make it unlawful for any person who was at any time a member of the Nazi party or its affiliate organizations to own, control, manage or supervise any business enterprise or possess an interest therein. It is said that this doesn't mean confiscation of Nazi wealth, but would compel the Nazis to get rid of their business holdings.

CHURCHES HERE TO TAKE PART IN WORLD SERVICE

Communion Celebration Is To Be Held Sunday as Reaffirmation of Faith

On Sunday morning virtually every protestant church in the country will participate in worldwide communion services.

In similar services, Christians belonging to over 40 denominations in the United States will partake of the Lord's Supper, emphasizing their common loyalty to Jesus Christ. This time of worship, called second in importance and attendance only to Easter, will include not only the communion service but also special choral and solo music by the choir and sermons on the theme by the pastors.

The idea for World-wide Communion was "born" nine years ago, in the summer of 1936, in the hearts of three Presbyterians. Soon that entire denomination took hold of the practice and it was given major emphasis in its churches and mission stations all over the world. Now most denominations all over the world participate. The first Sunday in October has become the traditional date. Last year on this date the churches here observing the day were filled to capacity, and it was given the name "Sunday of All Peoples." It is hoped that we may have a large attendance.

10:30 A. M. Morning worship and Communion Service. Bro. Harvey C. Bushnell, pastor.

6:30 P. M. The Senior C. E. will hold a reception service for its new members and have cordially invited others to attend. The service will be in candlelight and will be followed by a social hour.

Monday, 7:30 P. M. Official board meeting. Each board is urged to be present for this important session.

Wednesday, 7:30 P. M. Mid-week service with Mrs. Alfred Routte as leader. Our prayer meetings are conducted by good leaders with good programs.

Citizens of Washington C. H. and Fayette County.The Pied Piper of Socialism

Never in the history of the United States was there such a chance for peacetime production and steady employment—but there is no longer a free opportunity for individuals to take advantage of this situation. Government has grown so big that it dominates not only the affairs of industry, but it is a retarding influence in the smallest household and the most minor job. Gigantic labor monopolies have the power to bring any industry to a standstill to enforce their demands. A returning soldier or any other citizen cannot work in the basic industries of the United States without first getting permission from labor bosses and paying for the privilege. And industries, bound by law to a closed shop, cannot hire a returned non-union veteran or other man without having the rest of their employees walk out under the protection of the law.

All the fine spun economic theories in the world will not give employment when the right to produce and the right to work are smothered.

There are political influences at work in Congress to destroy private enterprise on a large scale, on the theory that only government can furnish sufficient jobs. The fact that free industry is restrained from giving jobs, is carefully hidden from the people.

We saw Germany wrecked under dictatorship and state socialism. We see France and England headed in the same direction, with their politicians promising the people that government can fill the bread basket better than private enterprise. And in the United States we see the stage being set to lead the people the same way.

We deserve no better fate than the slave peoples of other nations if we follow the Pied Piper of national socialism—death of personal liberty is the tribute he demands.

Defeated Candidates

Former Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio, Democratic presidential candidate in 1920, recently declined to be a senator. The appointment of Senator Harold H. Burton to the Supreme Court has created a vacancy which the governor of Ohio sought to fill by appointing Cox.

While Cox's age, 75, may have had something to do with his refusal, the fact is that few presidential candidates seem to figure in politics after their defeat. Some, like Al Smith and Willkie, strive after a second presidential nomination. In earlier days ex-candidates often served as secretary of state, like Bryan and Hughes. But for most it is the presidency or nothing. While Gov. Dewey is expected to run for reelection as governor of New York in 1946, his aim apparently is to keep in line for the presidency. The appeal of the governorship in itself seems to be secondary.

It is a pity that presidential candidates do not figure more in high office after defeat. A man well enough esteemed by a major party to become its presidential nominee should have something valuable to offer to the nation.

Change Diplomatic Methods

The atomic bomb may have wiped many cities from the face of Japan. It may have swept aside two generations of scientific thinking on the problems of the universe. Apparently it has scarcely budged the diplomatic protocol which conceals the facts of life from the people, while their governments argue over boundary lines, colonies, and waterways.

WASHINGTON — The Army Medical Department has been attempting to produce an antivenin for possible use against the rare habu snake, which has bitten about a dozen soldiers on Okinawa.

The habu's bite is considered quite dangerous. The snake is found only on Okinawa, but has cousins in other parts of the Orient.

It's of a family entirely different from the rattlesnakes, but Army doctors on Okinawa have been using a rattlesnake serum against the habu's bite. This is apparently effective, but the Army wants a specific habu antivenin.

To make an antivenin, poison is extracted from the snake and injected into a horse. Dosages increased gradually over a period of weeks to make the horse's immune he can safely withstand amounts several hundred times as he could have withstand originally.

Eventually the horse is bled, and a snakebite serum extracted that contains antibodies built up by the chemistry of the horse's own blood.

In this way scientists in this country have developed a kind of all-purpose antivenin for use against the bites of all native poisonous snakes except the coral, which rarely bites. This all around serum is made by using a mixture of venoms that supplied the venom used in its preparation.

One-Minute Test

1. Who was vice president during the first term of the Coolidge administration?
2. How much more salary does a U. S. senator receive than a member of the House of Representatives?
3. What are the gaits of a five-gaited horse called?

Hints on Etiquette

A cheery note to a sick friend is a much appreciated attention. In an extended illness several notes may be written to cheer the invalid, and keep him in touch with the outside world.

Words of Wisdom

We may be good as we please, if we please to be good.—Barrow.

Today's Horoscope

You are progressive, talented, methodical and dependable if today is your birthday anniversary. You have executive ability and handle others well. You are highly esteemed by friends; are poised and diplomatic. A happy, harmonious married life is indicated. Make your constructive power produce the dynamic energy that you need for the completion of tasks and chores today. Try to clear up the agenda so that you may have the week end free for enjoyment.

One-Minute Test Answers

1. There was no vice president.
2. They receive the same salaries—$10,000.
3. Walk, trot, canter, rack and slow gait.

It is certainly time to end the double talk such as has characterized the diplomatic proceedings of the major powers at the London Conference. All too obviously there is a real need for some exertion of authority. If the United States is going to be asked for "grants," "loans," "reciprocity" and everything else that can be thought of, we ought to have something to say in determining whom we are to recognize as the legitimate governments of European nations. A "free election" ought to be established as the basic requirement of recognition, and we can describe a free election in very simple terms. It is not an election conducted without permitting American reporters to enter a country, whatever else it may be. Let's change diplomatic methods. Let's get tough if we mean to keep the peace.

Fees for Social Work

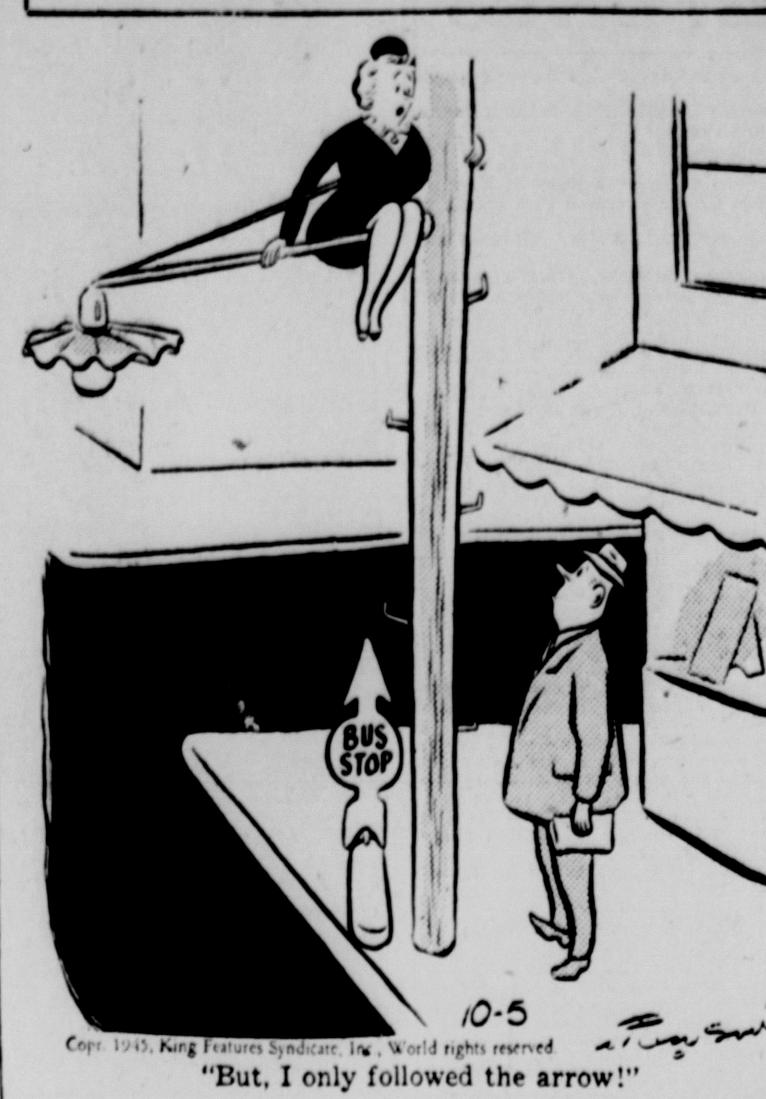

An interesting experiment is being performed by some social work agencies. They are charging fees for assistance to families who think they need it. The size of the fee ranges from one to three dollars per hour, with people who cannot afford to pay taken care of free.

During the depression, troubles were almost wholly economic. Family wage-earners had no jobs. Rent, groceries and clothing were the prime concern. But with more and better-paying jobs the social troubles did not cease. Divorce rates rose. Child development problems multiplied. Middle-class people complained that nobody did anything for them. Poverty-stricken people with family troubles got the assistance of trained social workers free and well-to-do people could afford expensive psychiatrists. The white-collar family needed help just as much and did not know where to turn. Putting social agencies on a self-respecting fee basis seems one answer.

A person in trouble needs a listener—too often it's a friend who knows nothing of causes lying behind behavior problems. Wrong advice is given and the problem magnified. Cases of simple emotional illness often yield to discussion by a social worker who knows what to say—often advising a medical look-over.

The new plan looks like part of the growing consciousness of possibilities of curing or preventing mental illness. Many family troubles are not moral but based on simple mental or physical causes which can be removed.

A good many people still feel like saying "Fill her up!" in a whisper.

Treating Rheumatic Fever

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

THE care of large numbers of patients with the disease known as rheumatic fever has given an opportunity to determine just what form of treatment is best in the present state of our knowledge.

Rheumatic fever is a condition probably caused by some infection. Many think it is due to a virus, that is, an organism so small that it can pass through the openings in a porcelain filter. However, it would appear that in many instances an attack of the disease is preceded by a cold or sore throat.

Pain and Swelling

In rheumatic fever, there usually are pain and swelling in the joints, some fever, anemia or lessening of the coloring in the blood, poor appetite, and similar symptoms. Often, damage to the heart valves and the heart muscle occurs. Sore throats produced by hemolytic streptococci, particularly, may lead to rheumatic fever.

Hence, whenever a patient is observed who has this type of sore throat and recovers slowly from it, or has fever in the evening, it may be rheumatic fever developing.

Sore Throat Patients

Such patients with sore throats should be placed immediately on a carefully planned program. This should consist, first of all, of complete rest in bed which should be continued until all signs of infection have cleared up. The surroundings should be quiet and there should be some means of keeping the patient from becoming restless, such as giving him limited things to do. As the patient improves, the amount of activity may be gradually increased.

Good nursing care will do much to promote rest, sleep and mental diversion. A daily bath of warm water and attention to the diet and elimination are also helpful. The diet should be nutritious, containing all of the necessary food parts.

Salicylates Useful

Salicylates are the only drugs which seem to be useful in rheumatic fever insofar as is known at present. They have a pain-relieving and fever-reducing action. However, it is not probable that they have any effect on the progress of the disease. They also do not seem to have any action in preventing recurrent attacks.

If the heart is so severely damaged as to cause shortness of breath and rapid heart beat, the giving of oxygen may be helpful.

It would appear that the sulfonamide drugs have value, if they are employed when the patient has a sore throat, in helping to prevent another attack of rheumatic fever.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

what happened have been led to these following inevitable conclusions:

1—Russia did not want an agreement. Her tactics disclosed this fully, as did her accepted responsibility for the failure. It was not a question of terms or details on this or that question, the Balkans, Italian peace treaty, Italian colonies or any of the other matters fully discussed. She prevented agreement on anything.

2—Her position challenged the whole United Nations peace setup. The single reason for the final break, mentioned by Byrnes, was Russian refusal to let France in on anything except the Italian treaty and China in on anything Europe.

The whole idea of the peace setup is a five nations theory. The principle of San Francisco, Dumbarton Oaks and the earlier Roosevelt agreements was, frankly, a five-nation setup to direct, and keep the peace of the future world.

The practical result of the Russian position would ignore all this, and defeat it, by establishing a three nations arrangement in Europe, where Russia is in possession of much new territory and is exhibiting strenuous isolationist political ambitions.

3—What is Russia's purpose? This conclusion must be put in form of a question. It was not hinted by Byrnes if he knew. No direct information is yet available. Plainly China is our friend, and DeGaulle in France has been more friendly with us since an earlier visit to Moscow failed to bring promised results and the testing French elections showed victories for socialists over Communists.

But does this fully explain Russia's attitude? After all, the friendliest possible new government in Britain could get along with her and was far more irate than Byrnes at the end, despite being recently elected over Churchill on the promise of greater friendliness with Russia than he provided. There must be deeper reasons. One generally shared here is that Russia is returning to strong isolationism.

4—Although Russia either does not realize it or care, the result caused her to lose much ground in the world. She has alienated both France and China by her position, but beyond this has opposed the ambitions of the small nations of the world. Equally important, she has no doubt unified American public opinion against her. Our people have been rather solidly behind the United Nations theory, and must now conclude she rejects it.

She was never the initiator and wholehearted sympathizer at San Francisco, Dumbarton Oaks, Bretton Woods or elsewhere. Her delegates turned around and went home from the Chicago air conference. Messrs. Roosevelt and Churchill earlier always had to drag agreements from them.

5—The only way the peace can be concluded is for Russia to change her attitude or for us—unthinkably—to abandon Britain, France, China and the rest of the world, our pledged war purposes, and our victory.

A change of attitude by Russia does not require such unreasonable or suicidal action. She has only to manifest a genuine desire for agreement by having Stalin reverse Molotov, or by renewing negotiations at the foreign minister level or initiating a movement for a Big Three meeting of Stalin, Attlee and Truman, thus showing in any convincing way her good faith.

One of these latter courses is anticipated as the next development. This is the real inner basis of the hope here—neither over-interpreted, nor underinterpreted.

Mrs. Ted Ottinger Feted At Stork Shower Here by Two Hostesses Thursday

Mrs. Thomas Christopher and Mrs. Robert Dunton Combine To Give Dinner and Shower For Reno, Nevada, Resident in This City.

A novel and well-planned stork shower was entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Thomas Christopher on Hopkins Street, and giving by herself and Mrs. Robert L. Dunton honored Mrs. Ted V. Ottinger, formerly of this city, who resides in Reno, Nevada, with her husband. The cosy and attractively appointed home was decorated with several crystal bowls and vases of colorful fall flowers and greenery, the decorative arrangements being placed at points of vantage in the rooms.

Seven tables of guests were assembled by the two hostesses for dinner at six-thirty o'clock. Centering each table were white tapers in crystal star holders, around the base of which was placed blue and pink tinted Queen Anne lace and smilax was entwined around the tapers. The buffet in the dining room was decorated with a crystal swan watergarden of multi-colored flowers and greenery.

The placecard-tallies carried out the motif introduced in the decorations. Later in the evening, each guest wrote a short note to Mrs. Ottinger on their tally which was sent to her along with the box of daintily wrapped packages.

The gifts were arranged around a large stork in one corner of the living room. These were boxed and sent to Mrs. Ottinger, last night's honoree.

The group of well-dressed women hugely enjoyed the congenial dinner hour at the small tables, the two hostesses combining to make the occasion a most delightful one.

Assisting during the serving of dinner were Mrs. Fred Enslen and Sue and Tommy Christopher.

The remainder of the evening was spent playing bridge, interspersed with periods of informal chatting.

First prize went to Mrs. N. M. Reiff. It was wrapped in blue paper with blue and pink tinted Queen Ann lace and pink and blue ribbons. Second prize was wrapped in pink paper with blue cut-out leaves and ribbons. This was presented to Mrs. Aubin Hedges, of Hillsboro. Another winner was Mrs. Andy Gidding whose package was wrapped in the same dainty colors and Mrs. L. F. Everhart's package was wrapped to resemble a bassinet.

Invited guests were Mrs. John Forsythe, Mrs. Fred Enslen, Mrs. Leonard Korn, Mrs. Francis Haines, Mrs. N. M. Reiff, Mrs. Norman McLean, Mrs. Ormond Dewey, Mrs. W. H. Limes, Mrs. C. G. 12-year-old Gives Piano Recital at Home of Teacher

A group of music-loving friends assembled at the home of Miss Rosalyn Wilson, East Paint Street, Thursday night, when Miss Wilson presented in recital one of her pupils, Roberta Sexton, talented 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton R. Sexton, of Gregg Street.

Roberta played entirely without the score and her playing at all times was with ease and poise. She presented a program of wide variety, the different types of music showing to advantage the interpretation of the various forms. Her numbers were all well chosen and she displayed remarkable talent and ability, and reflected the careful training of her teacher.

Robert prefaced each number with a few well-chosen words concerning the number.

Her program consisted of: "Prelude in C Minor," Richard Czernowky; "Butterfly," Etude, Chopin; "Country Gardens," Percy Grainger; "In A Boat," Zeckwer; "Invention No. 1," Bach; "Liebestraum," Liszt and John Phillip Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Informal chatting at the close of the game was highlighted when Mrs. Thatcher served a delectable collation of viands which were enjoyed by the group.

Hostess for the next meeting of the bridge club is scheduled to be Mrs. Paul Van Voorhis.

50th Anniversary Tea To Be Held at Gardner Home

Three charter members of the Browning Club—Miss Amy Conn, Miss Clara Thurston and Miss Bess Cleaveland—will be honored at the 50th anniversary tea to be held at Miss Edith Gardner's home Tuesday at 7:30 P. M.

A special invitation has been extended to the three women who are, as far as records show, the only living charter members of the club which was organized in 1895. Mrs. Mary Allen was the first president of the club and Mrs. Charles Murray was the first secretary.

The program at the tea will include readings from Browning by Miss Sara Keck, high school dramatics instructor; and vocal solos by Mrs. Maynard Icenhower. A special invitation has been extended to all associate and active members of the club.

An old sheet spread over the floor around the sewing table will catch threads and ravelings and make picking up easier.

GOOD RESPONSE IS BEING MADE TO LABOR PLEA

Physically Handicapped To Get Break Through
Action of USES

Early reports indicate that a good response is being made on the part of the employers of this and other communities in connection with "National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week."

John L. Craig, Ohio director of the United States Employment Service, which is sponsoring the appeal to employers to help provide places for the physically handicapped, said his office is making an intensive drive to enlist public support of a sustained program for the employment and development of abilities and capacities of those who are physically handicapped.

This emphasis ties in with the President's Proclamation designating the week of October 7-13 as the "National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week." "Our goal is suitable employment for all the physically handicapped," Craig stated, explaining that the Ohio USES personnel is calling on employers throughout the state to solicit job openings that might be filled by some particular type of handicapped person.

"This effort is not new in Ohio," Craig concluded. "During the past three years a special department, under the supervision of Ralph W. Emmons, has directed the activities of local offices in the field of handicapped placement work, which has resulted in over 50,000 handicapped persons being placed in employment.

"Ohio has achieved the distinction of being one of the three leading states in the Union in the work with the physically handicapped and we expect to maintain that outstanding record."

The appeals went out to employers generally this week, and all returns are to be in the hands of the USES offices by the end of next week.

BUSH & RANKIN LAW FIRM IS NOW ANNOUNCED

Senior Member in Practice
51 Years - Junior Just Back from War Work

Ed L. Bush and Richard Rankin have formed a law partnership. Offices will be on the second floor of 123½ North Fayette Street, those occupied by Bush for more than 15 years.

Bush, the senior member of the firm, is one of the city's most prominent attorneys. He has practiced law here for 51 years and has held all of the offices in the county Bar Association. He also is widely known outside of the city and county.

Rankin, who was graduated from the college of law of Ohio State University in 1940 and was admitted to the Bar on his successful state examination later that year, never had a chance to get established in the practice of his profession because of the war.

He went into the Probate Court as clerk not long after he was admitted to the Bar. That was only about a year before the war. In his position as clerk, he handled much of the detail work of the court after Judge Max G. Dice, a reserve officer in the Army Air Forces and now a lieutenant colonel stationed in California, was called to active duty at Wright Field. He remained as court clerk until January of 1942, when Judge Otis Core succeeded Judge Dice, when he went into Bush's law office.

But, in November he gave up his budding practice and went to Wright Field as civilian administrative assistant in the control section of the procurement division of the Army Air Forces. His work there concerned reports of the status of equipment for aircraft production. From March until November of 1942 he served as referee in bankruptcy here under appointment by Judge Harry M. Rankin of the county Common Pleas Court.

Much Damage Done to
622 Gregg St. House

Mrs. Kenneth Bonecutter, 622 Gregg Street, when one of her children spread the alarm, rushed to a bedroom where her baby was asleep, and rescued the child from the dense smoke and flames that were pouring into the room where a fire had started in a closet, presumably from matches, firemen said.

Firemen upon reaching the scene, used a fog nozzle in extinguishing the flames and driving away the dense smoke in the upper part of the house.

A large line of hose was laid as a precautionary measure when the heavy smoke was seen pouring from the building, but it was not used.

Considerable damage was done to the bedroom, hall and closet.

WATER RISES SLOWLY AT PUMPING STATION

Water, which started coming down Paint Creek early this week, is gradually filling the reservoir above the dam at the pumping station, but it may be days before the water spills over the dam and starts the creek flowing through this city.

Unless additional rain falls it is possible that the water may not reach the top of the dam. However in 24 hours the reservoir showed an increase of two inches.

INSTALLING NEW INTERLOCKING PLANT IN CITY

Electrical System Takes Place of Manual Plant Here

Work of installing a new electrically operated interlocker plant at the crossing of the B. & O., D. T. & I. and Pennsylvania Railroads at West Court Street, is well underway, and within a short time the new plant will be in operation and will be a big improvement over the manual operated system.

At the present time the watchman just operates levers attached to long wires that reach the signal blocks, and give trains the right-of-way at the crossing.

This system has been in effect here for a great many years, and has required some real effort on the part of the operator to manipulate the heavy levers, particularly during times of ice and snow when the wires were not always free to respond.

By pressing a small lever, when the plant is completed, the watchman is able to work the signals giving the various roads the right-of-way and barring the others at the same time.

Workmen have been busy on the task for days, and it will require some little time to finish it.

The improvement is one of many being carried out by the B. & O. Railroad, and while the work is being done here by a B. & O. crew the Pennsylvania and D. T. & I. will share the cost.

It is understood that the old signal block here is one of the few left in this part of Ohio.

Howard E. Rice, special service officer of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will speak at the brief business meeting after the theater party kick-off for the National War Fund Thursday night in the Fayette Theater.

Howard E. Rice

Rice, a veteran of both world wars, knows intimately the problems of the returning veterans and will in a few words tell the men and women who are to work in the drive what their efforts to solicit will mean to servicemen who have not yet been discharged.

The YORKTOWN climaxed a war career of 36 major Pacific operations by standing off Japan and sending her planes over the USS MISSOURI as the surrender terms were being signed.

Pilots based on this ship shot down 457 Jap planes and 76 probables, destroyed 695 and damaged 923 on the ground, and sank or helped sink many warships, including the battleship Yamato and the heavy cruiser Agano. The ship's anti-aircraft batteries shot down 14 aircraft.

Charles Reinke, the campaign chairman, said he hoped his plan for mailing in financial reports would help keep the drive running smoothly without the necessity for several report meetings during the campaign. The dates are from Thursday to October 20.
